Who!

- No programming background
  - No assumptions on your background + start from very fundamentals
  - Save your time
    - Short lectures. Not so long and repetitive to look like a deep course!
    - Focus on skills: No need to take another course
- Took a programming course, but have weak skills
  - Probably you then need to solve practice, homework and projects
  - Check slides out if there are extra concepts. Typically there are
- Good programmer seeks refreshing concepts
  - This is more tricky. Inspect well the content to decide if content matches your need

"Acquire knowledge and impart it to the people."

"Seek knowledge from the Cradle to the Grave."
